sons. 4th Aliyah: G-d tells Moshe to ascend Mount Avarim to see the Land and die. Moshe asks G-d for a successor to take the people into the Land of Israel. G-d assigns Yehoshua (Joshua) to be Moshe's successor. 5th Aliyah: The laws of the daily tamid offerings. The musaf offering for the Sabbath and Rosh Chodesh. 6th Aliyah: The musaf offerings for the festivals of Pesach, Shavuot, Rosh Hashana, and Yom Kippur. 7th Aliyah: The musaf offerings for each day of the seven days of Sukkot and the eighth day Shemini Atzeret.

Haftarah (pages 1192—1193): The Haftarah is taken from the book of Jeremiah (1:1-2:3). It is the first in a series of 3 Haftarot read during the 3 weeks. The time between the 17th of Tammuz and 9th of Av.

OBSERVING THE "NINE DAYS"

Beginning this Friday, Rosh Chodesh Av, and for the next nine days, through Tisha B'av, we observe a stricter level of mourning, in accordance with the Mishna in Taanit: Mi sh'nichnas Av memaatin b'simcha — "As the month of Av begins, we reduce our joy."

As during the entire Three Weeks, we minimize joy and celebration, not listening to music, avoiding all public celebrations and pleasure trips or other unusually entertaining activities. No haircuts or shaving. Men who normally shave every day, may continue to do so if needed until the week of Tisha B'av. We do not say the blessing shebecheyanu on new food or clothes except on Shabbat.

During the Nine Days, we avoid buying clothes or any other items that bring joy. We suspend home improvements. We do not eat meat nor drink wine. Meat and wine are permitted on Shabbat, as well as any "seudat mitzvah" occasions (e.g. a Brit Milah or a Siyum). It is preferable to give the wine from Havdalah to a child to drink. Otherwise, because of its association with Shabbat, it is permissible to drink. We do not do any laundry; except, if necessary, for small children who frequently soil their clothing. We do not wear freshly laundered garments (except undergarments). Any clothes one is planning to wear during the Nine Days should have been worn briefly prior to Rosh Chodesh in order to get out any "freshness." Fresh clothes may be worn for Shabbat. We do not bathe for pleasure. It is, however, permitted to bathe in order to remove dirt or perspiration or for medical reasons. Hot water should be avoided. Bathing in warm water is permitted on Friday in honor of Shabbat. We avoid any litigation with a non-Jew, because of the ominous fortune associated with this time.

ABOUT THE TORAH READING

Artscroll Stone Chumash: Pages 876—899

1st Aliyah: Parshat Pinchas continues from last week's parsha, G-d makes a covenant of peace with Pinchas for zealously killing Zimri ben Salu and the Midianite princess.

2nd Aliyah: The census is taken. The names of all the families of all twelve tribes of Israel are recorded and the census totaled 601,730 adult men.

3rd Aliyah: The story of the daughters of Tzelafchad and their complaint to Moshe that they should inherit their father's portion of the Land in the absence of
